

Issued on behalf of and with the approval of Analox Sensor Technology Ltd

PROFILE

DREW SKINNER

ACCOUNT MANAGER – ANALOX MILITARY SYSTEMS.

Analox Sensor Technology has appointed Andrew Skinner as Account Manager in its Military Division.

Andrew brings extensive experience of the military, having served as a Military Policeman for 23 years from the age of 16. During his military service, he has travelled extensively and also trained to British Sub Aqua Club Dive Leader standard. In his last six years he gained an Open University degree in electrical engineering.

Since retiring from the army, Andrew worked as a computer engineer before progressing into sales-based roles, initially as an advisor on IT networks and more recently in security. Andrew lives in Newcastle.

Andrew said: "Joining Analox is both exciting and challenging. Everyone in the company is highly-motivated and focused on building our key markets, and working together towards ambitious growth targets."